Q: What are Altus Schools?

A: Altus Schools are FREE public schools serving students in grades K-12. We provide an option for students who seek an alternative to the traditional school. Altus Schools share a common educational philosophy, the Altus Model, that redefines how teachers teach and students learn.

Q: How does our program work?

A: Unlike traditional schools, a student is assigned to one teacher that guides the student through all of his/her academic courses.

Q: What does the coursework look like for students that enroll here?

A: Students focus on 1-2 courses at a time and complete each course within 3-4 weeks. Students have the option to complete their coursework using a textbook, online, or a blend of the two.

Q: Will the student receive a real high school diploma?

A: Yes! Just like your traditional school, our schools are WASC accredited. Additionally, our courses are NCAA and UC A-G approved. Upon completion, students participate in our graduation ceremony and receive their high school diploma.

Q: How often do students have to visit their resource center?

A: Together, both teacher and family will establish a schedule that best suits the student's academic needs. Similar to college, students complete 80% of their course work at home, while 20% is spent inside the resource center. On average, a student attends the resource center 2-3 times a week for 2-3 hours a day.

Q: What do students do when they are attending their scheduled resource center hours?

A: During their scheduled time, students have the opportunity to receive help from their teacher, ask questions, turn in assignments, and/or test on the curriculum.

Q: What does it take to be a successful student at an Altus School?

A: Students at our schools learn how to be self-motivated and should set aside 4-6 hours a day in order to meet minimum requirements.

Q: As a parent, what is my role?

A: Accountability is key! Parents, guardians, and family members are our biggest accountability partners in making sure the student is successful. Expect frequent communication with the teacher on academic progress.

Q: Can students remain enrolled with their traditional school while attending an Altus school?

A: Students cannot be concurrently enrolled at another K-12 school while enrolled at an Altus School. However, our courses are easily transferable, and the student may rejoin their traditional school at any time. Altus Schools do offer dual enrollment opportunities for students wishing to enroll concurrently in college courses.

Q: What happens if the student has an IEP or a 504?

A: We accept all students with IEPs and 504s. Our on-site Resource Specialist helps modify courses to meet students' needs and provides extra tutoring time. Include this paperwork as soon as possible, so an education plan can be created right away.

Q: What are the next steps?

A: Our enrollment process is easy! To enroll, visit www.Altus4u.com and click "Enroll Now" to fill out our Request Enrollment Form. A school representative will contact you within 3-5 business days. Once confirmation has been received by our office staff, please allow 3-5 business days to process the application and place your student in a designated resource center.
